

2019 Therapy Physics Mock Exam Announcement

The Northern California Chapter of the AAPM is offering a therapeutic medical physics mock oral exam on Saturday February 2nd, 2019. The purpose of this event is to provide the student with a simulation of the environment of an oral board exam. The examiners are faculty members from Stanford University, UCSF, and UC Davis. Each student will run through five stations, and feedback will be provided on the examinee's performance by the examiners.

Information:

Exam Date: 2/2/2019

Location: 875 Blake Wilbur Drive, Stanford, CA 94305 (The Stanford Cancer Center)

Fee: Free!

Attendee: The Northern and Southern California Chapter members who are preparing for oral exams (minimum requirement: Passed ABR part I exam)

How to Register: Please register here

Registration Deadline: Friday, January 18, 2019, 5 PM

Agenda:

08:00 – 08:30 Registration

08:30 – 09:20 Introductory lecture

09:30 – 12:30 Morning exam session

13:00 – 13:30 Lunch break

13:30 – 16:30 Afternoon exam session (if enough participants)

Note:

1. There is a max number of attendees we can accept, as such Chapter members who have passed ABR Part II will have the priority to attend.
2. If you cannot make it, please email Amy Yu so we can release your seat to other Chapter members who want to attend.

Contact: Amy Yu, Ph.D., DABR (amysyu@stanford.edu), President, AAPM Northern California Chapter